Happy Labor Day From Finish Line Staffing

Labor Day was established over 100 years ago as a way to celebrate the American Worker. Originally founded to recognize carpenters, general laborers and others, it has grown to honor all who contribute to our overall economy. Finish Line Staffing Services as you know has a focus on helping advanced manufacturing and other light industrial companies. So we take great pride in the original meaning of Labor Day.

We hope you will take two minutes to view the video below as we embark on this Labor Day weekend!

If you have skill gaps or upcoming talent acquisition needs, please contact us at info@finishlinestaffing.com
